Full job description

Aston Consult

We are a privately owned consultancy based in Sydney, Australia. We offer commercial and contractual services to the construction and engineering industries including independent expert witness services, claims preparation/management and contractual and commercial advice.

Our success is attributed to doing things a little differently to the more traditional quantity surveying and claims practices. We enjoy working together and pride ourselves on our team vibe and our flat structure. Our people are enabled because they work in an environment where they are encouraged to think differently, they also receive timely feedback to help develop their knowledge and grow their understanding. It sounds simple but doing the basic things well is often lost, particularly in large organisations.

have you worked on alliance projects as a Quantity Surveyor or Contract Administrator and interested to move deeper into this field? Do you wish to increase your exposure to different contract models and clients, and work on a variety of different projects? Are you considering where to take your career after several years working in a project-based role? Perhaps you are undertaking a post graduate course so you can specialise further, and you are looking for an organisation that can offer you the right exposure?

The Role

You will work with a variety of civil and social infrastructure clients and contractors as part of Aston's Sydney team. You will be involved in the full lifecycle of projects from procurement through to the preparation of variations and claims, including the quantification of values and costs. You will carry out data analysis by on project information including raw accounting data, drawings, letters, financial data, change orders and the like.

We are looking for a team player who values precision and is an effective communicator. Some of the other attributes we are interested in are:

- Bachelor's degree in quantity surveying, civil engineering, law, or a related field
- Studying towards a professional accreditation such as CIARB, RICS
- Minimum of 5 years experience working for a construction or engineering contractor or specialist claims consultancy. Project experience is essential
- Alliance experience desirable but not essential
- Ability to communicate clearly and concisely to a non-technical audience
- Ability to process, model and present large data sets
- Analytical thinker and problem solver

What's in it for you?

We are offering an unrivalled opportunity to learn and develop as a commercial specialist. You will receive firsthand experience working with a highly reputable team of experts without the layers of organisation that usually get in the way. You will be encouraged to push yourself by taking on different experiences and training that feed into your overall understanding of construction disputes. You will become a valued member of Aston's team, a team that foster a great vibe and genuinely enjoy working together.
