Full job description

Job Expectations

We're building Australia's largest infrastructure and along the way some of Australia's finest careers.

Here is an exciting opportunity for a Senior Accountant – Labour who will be critical for performing period-end reporting and analysis on Labour costs, including Capitalised Labour costs, across NBN. You will also have responsibility to deliver insightful analysis and to apply technical accounting knowledge to ensure accurate reporting.

A bit about your role

The role will support the Manager – SEO, RDE & Labour in all Labour reporting activities as well as manage stakeholder expectations across various divisions and be responsible for accounting and reporting of period-end Labour costs. The role will act as a Subject matter expert for Labour costs when interfacing with the business. In addition, the role will work closely with Corporate Finance to ensure compliance to external reporting requirements as well as respond to audit queries.

A bit about you

You will possess an accounting background with excellent analytical skills, technical accounting skills and understanding of systems/processes. This will be coupled with advanced Excel skills and communication skills. In addition to the above, a successful candidate must demonstrate such qualities as integrity, be highly motivated and be able to work autonomously.

Life at nbn

Please note that this role will be a permanent position.

At nbn our people have a clear and shared purpose - empowering Australians to redefine the way they live, work and play into the future. As one of the Australia's largest infrastructure projects ever undertaken in Australian history, you'll be part of a team building a brighter future for the country.

In your personal career, you'll benefit from technical training for professional development, leadership programs and access to the latest technology, as well as being led by a diverse executive team.

nbn is committed to an inclusive, flexible and supportive workplace where everyone can feel valued, respected and have equal opportunity to thrive and succeed. We encourage applications from people of all ages, nationalities, abilities and cultures - including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, the LGBTI+ community and people living with disability. We're happy to adjust our recruitment process to support accessibility needs – we encourage you to advise us at the time of the application via recruitment@nbnc.com.au

We actively focus on our people having a fair go at reaching their career aspirations. We're committed to equal opportunities for all employees. With initiatives like Women's Leadership Programs, a commitment to equal pay, flexibility and market leading parental leave, we truly are paving the way for true equality in the workplace.
