What we seek

There is no standard model for Kearney consultants. We look for talented problem-solvers with intellectual curiosity who are ready to be active members of a client team.

The following qualifications are preferred:

- - A proven record of academic excellence.
- - Outstanding written and verbal communication skills.
- - Strong critical thinking and analytical capabilities.
- - An innovative and collaborative approach to problem-solving.
- - Natural self-direction, with the ability to operate in ambiguity and learn quickly.
- - Previous experience leading and managing teams.
- - Eagerness to collaborate, coach, mentor, and help others grow professionally.
- - Senior Business Analysts generally need to have at least two progressive work experiences in a rigorous environment, such as a global company or consulting firm.
- - Bachelor's Degree

Main duties:

- - Gathering, analyzing and drawing strategic and technical conclusions from data you and others have gathered
- - Developing actionable recommendations
- - Facilitating the implementation of these recommendations
- - Self-directed within consulting teams with the initiative to contribute beyond the scope of formal project duties

Essential Skills:

- - Capable of and dedicated to continuous learning
- - Excellent communicator
- - Experienced in relevant operations or strategy
- - Strong group facilitator
- - Team player
- - Leader
- - Results focused
- - Culturally flexible

Equal Employment Opportunity and Nondiscrimination
