Full job description

Your new company

One of the Australia's leading provider of integrated financial services. Enterprise Services (ES) is responsible for the world leading application of technology and operations across every aspect of the bank, from innovative product platforms for our customers to essential tools within our business. They also use technology to drive efficient and timely processing, an essential component of great customer service. They have been recognised as leading the industry in IT and operations with its world-class platforms and processes, agile IT infrastructure, and innovation in everything from payments to internet banking and mobile apps.

Your new role

You will be working for Regulatory and Control Operations Team (RACO or Financial Crime Operations). You would be responsible for the day- to- day management of RACO systems, ensuring system availability and performance, functionality and continuity to enable optimal operations function. Driving a high standard of the team's capability uplift relating directly to AML/CTF & Sanctions processes, this will include 'train the trainer' sessions or staff awareness training. Responsible for the mitigation of risks for the service over its full lifecycle.

What you'll need to succeed

To be successful you should be an established technically minded thought leader with Financial Crime Compliance expertise. You should have hands on experience designing and building automation solutions to deliver transformative change. Experience in Agile practices is a must.

What you'll get in return

Working in a team of dedicated professionals who collaborate closely with financial crime compliance and Business Aligned Risk teams across the group. Working in a scalable and growing operation that has extensive transformation plans and focus within the organisation. As a System Owner, you will receive a competitive salary ($120k-160K plus super) and will become a part of a dynamic, fast paced company at their Sydney CBD office.
