Full job description

Randstad is seeking several Assembly & Production Workers to join our Wodonga based manufacturing client. This role is 5 days per week, on an ongoing day, afternoon or night shift - with opportunities for permanent employment in the future.

About the Role

In your new role as an Assembly & Production Worker your workday could include:

- Assembly of electrical components;
- Use of power tools and hand tools;
- Winding of electrical coils;
- Quality control
- Shift work - day, afternoon and night shifts with overtime available on weekends.

Skills and Experience

To be successful as an Assembly & Production Worker you will need:

- Recent experience in an industrial setting (production, manufacturing or trade roles);
- Ability to undertake shift work;
- High level of physical fitness and strength; and
- Excellent attendance, reliability and attention to detail.

What's on Offer

As an Assembly & Production Worker you can expect:

- $32+ p/hour + superannuation
- Support of leading recruitment consultants to help drive your career; and
- Opportunities to move to permanent full-time employment and career progression.

How to Apply
