Full job description

Permanent/Fixed Term Temporary, Full-time positions available

Queensland Corrective Services is a top-tier forward thinking public safety agency, committed to the humane containment, supervision and rehabilitation of offenders. Every day, our work makes Queensland a safer place to live and work.

Queensland Corrective Services psychologists work with a diverse and complex adult population, including a range of demographics, clinical presentations and variations in risk and need. Psychologists will gain experience working with adolescents and youth through to late adulthood; Indigenous and culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) individuals; people with intellectual disabilities, acquired brain injury, developmental disorders, mental health concerns, addiction and/or heightened risk of self-harm or suicide. Psychologists work within a multidisciplinary team including counsellors or social workers, program delivery officers, education officers, transitions coordinators, cultural liaison officers, offender health team, custodial staff and external agencies.
