Full job description

Register your interest to be kept up to date with the latest opportunities in building services!

2021 is promised to be busier than ever across the building services engineering sector, and we are already having plenty of positive discussions with engineering consultancies and D&C contractors who have plans to grow in Q2 AND Q3 of this year.

Many of the core sectors are bouncing back quickly, and we are already seeing huge growth across commercial, education, healthcare and sectors.

We are currently registering a high volume of opportunities at all levels across disciplines including:

- Mechanical (HVAC)
- Electrical
- Hydraulics
- Fire Protection
- Fire Safety
- ESD and Sustainability
- BIM Management and MEP Revit Design

If you're considering your options in 2021 and would like to register your interest, discuss the market, or just find out more about what's coming up, then please submit your details via the apply link, or get in touch with Jack on the following details:
