Full job description

Your new company

This is an exciting opportunity to join an organisation specialising in Defence and National Security Consulting. This is an immediately available and critical Defence Consulting role where you will have influence over organisational change and transformation.

Your new role

As one of the Defence Consulting Specialists you will have a strong Defence industry understanding with a background ideally in the areas of business, governance and risk assessments. This is a strategic position that will see you develop, grow and maintain client relationships while delivering high quality projects that are commercially viable. Through your excellent delivery you will then be able to also identify and phase in new opportunities to assist in expanding this consulting practices presence.

What you'll need to succeed

- Qualifications in Project Management
- Experience in the areas of strategic and operational planning for Defence and or Government Projects.
- Exceptional stakeholder liaison and management skills
- Proven ability to manage and deliver packages of work to a very high standard.
- Due to the industry and urgency of this position you must currently hold
